Quality in aged care is not just integral to ensuring compliance, but a key factor in the future and sustainability of organisations. ACSA's annual residential-care focused symposium series focuses on how we build, manage and support quality across our organisations.

We'll explore the opportunities, strategies and systems that can strengthen organisational efforts to provide quality and sustainable residential care.

This event is scheduled to take place over 3 dates, each session will be for 2 hours and attendees have the option to attend all sessions or choose which sessions fit their needs.
